

I am a current subscriber to XM Satellite Radio, which I much enjoy. Currently, they are not offering local traffic or weather channels related to my area of the country. But, I am looking forward to the day they do. Meantime, I am quite concerned about the NAB's attempt to persuade you to disallow this service. I cannot fully comprehend the NAB's reasoning behind this. I see no threat to the well being of the broadcasters they represent.

I am requesting that you allow XM Satellite Radio to continue offering local channels of interest to its paying customers, and to allow them to expand these services within current FCC guidelines and regulations.

Sincerely,
Curtis Killough
